The Hot List Luke Steel

The Hot List: code for expensive property that will sell in a snap.

It's every realtor's dream, and I'm no different. Easy money is my favorite kind.

Except my client—worthless asshole that he is—doesn't want to make this easy at all. Not for me, anyway.

He's gone behind my back and hired another agent.

He's turned this into a damn competition.

I could have sacked up and taken it in stride... but then I saw who I was up against.

Audrey: sex on two legs, an ass that won't quit, queen baker of delicious muffins—and the one woman I feel real hatred for.

Three months ago she stole something from me.

I can't get it back, but I can do something better... I can steal from her.

I'm going to win this little game. Nothing will stop me.

That's what I think, anyway, until I see her half-naked. Until I remember how her hair feels between my fingers... how she smells, how she sounds when her breath catches in her throat.

This was supposed to be sweet revenge.

But winning this game could cost me more than I ever realized.

Alex ? says

Well, this story rubbed me wrong.

I dunno...

Luke Steel is one of my favorite smut-authors and I admire how he writes his female characters...

This book was my 2nd less favorite after Single Dad Boss

He was a jerk and she wasn't strong ?

Sorry, but she came across as a cat in heat. I'm really deeply sorry, it's unethical! I love cats!!! Sorry!!!

It could be my personal preference, but I don't find it sexy when a woman falls to her knees, sucks the guy dry and swallows after he showed her his interest for the 1st time ?.

Nothing against bj, it's fun! But not as a 1st sexual experience with the man she had a crush for years! And she told him that she secretly pined for him. Why? To feed his ego? ?

The only thing I liked and found funny, she told him that her attraction began after she saw him in running shorts and "caught" the size of his d*ck.

LMAO.

Why not? How often we read about males falling in love with the size of our boobs, shape of our asses/hips and of course the tightness of our p*ssies ???

Yada, yada, please f*ck me, yada, yada, blah blah blah.

Epilogue included.

Ryan - Sweet Red Reader says

I voluntarily reviewed an Advance Reader Copy of the book.

The Hot List was everything I've come to expect from a Luke Steel book - hot, sexy, slightly angsty (and utterly realistic), and mature on a level you don't often find with these sorts of novellas. That is why he will remain a must read author for me. I know that not only will I enjoy his books, if I'm in a slump or suffering from a book hangover or just feeling over- (or under-) whelmed by my TBR, his stories will rescue me. The Hot List is no exception to this. I really enjoyed Caleb and Audrey's story because while not telling us their ages explicitly, I got the feeling that the two main characters were of an age beyond their 20's, yet they were still passionate and sexy as all get out. There was a level of maturity in this book and the setting that really resonated with me. Plus, as usual, the sex was HAWT! I love reading the male first person POV that Luke Steel utilizes in his books. The Hot List gets 4 out of 5 wine glasses.

Chriss says

When you start to read a Luke Steel book you pretty much know it's going to be more sizzle than story and that's not a bad thing. If you're looking for a short read to put you in the mood than The Hot List is perfect. Take two real estate agents trying to sell the same properties, put them together for the weekend at their clients lake house.....things could get a little wet (pun intended). Add in a little bit of history of the sexual nature and there you have the inevitable love/hate romance. I enjoyed seeing them trying to get one over on each other but at the end of the day their attraction to each other can't be denied. It's the perfect bedtime story.

*Received an ARC for my review

I really like Luke Steel's books - they remind me of Alexa Riley's books with an Alpha-male, fast read, and insta-love; but this one just didn't do it for me. It was a VERY fast read and I finished it in a less than a half hour. Didn't really get into too much of the characters past and I keep waiting for something amazing to happen and it was just very flat.

Crossing The Line?

In Luke's World?, the men do all their thinking with their little head?! This book is no exception! It's all about the Chase! YEHAU!

The Hot List is a short romp through the high end residential real estate market and a study in what agents will do to make the sale! It's all about the Art of the Deal!

A few years back, Audrey? betrays Caleb?, six ways to Sunday. She takes the dream job he wanted at another real estate firm, and doesn't tell him about it. He's very angry when he finds out from someone else and he rejects her.

After that they become rivals, selling expensive residential real estate for opposing firms, even though Caleb???? still has the hots ? for her.

They are brought back together when a divorcing couple hire them to sell their penthouse and vacation home. The ex wife hires Audrey? and the husband hires Caleb???. They come to terms and decide it's a race. Whoever sells the property first gets the commission of course. The husband will sweeten his deal with Caleb? with a list of contacts and extra money.

The lake property has interest immediately. Caleb??? heads there with the idea of staying there over the weekend, because he has three showings. When he gets there he finds out Audrey? is already there! She has taken over the master bedroom.

Caleb??? is upset, but he still wants to take Audrey? to bed. He's really never gotten over her, but he doesn't know if she is still interested in him. He is so distracted by her, he messes up his first showing.

Caleb???? has made some plans in his head to see and touch ALL of Aubrey's real estate!

YEHAU! Ride em Bareback?, Cowgirl!?????

PointedlyBlunt says

Caleb and Audrey have been hired by a couple in the midst of a nasty divorce to sell the same properties. First one to find a buyer gets the commission. Caleb and Audrey have a past that has left Caleb with nothing nice to say about Audrey (unless it's about her body). Due to a lack of communication, they've both scheduled to stay at the vacation home and show it to potential buyers. Needless to say, neither is happy with the circumstances.

Caleb and Audrey's chemistry is palpable, especially when they're fighting. There's a good amount of angst, but no unnecessary drama which makes it a perfect story to relax with and ignore reality for a bit.

I received an ARC in exchange for an honest review.

Hot Hot Hot!!!! Unbelievable, an awesome read, couldn't put it down. If you haven't read a book by Luke Steel this is one you must read, and if you have, you know the heat he brings to his books, and this one won't disappoint. It brings the heat between the H/H, and provides enough of backstory, so the reader understand the tension and what's caused it, while not boring the reader with a typical, sweet second chance romance. Very well written, especially for a short read, the heat level is what readers have come to expect and love from Luke Steel! The Hot List definitely won't disappoint, definitely, without a doubt, 5 Stars for this book and 6 Star for the heat level!

I was provided an ARC copy of this book and am voluntarily providing this review.

I was provided an ARC copy of this book and I'm providing my review freely. This is a nice, light summer read. Audra and Caleb used to be work colleagues who leaned on one another for advice and counsel. Then when they finally made the tentative leap towards lovers Caleb finds out Audra took his dream job he'd told her all about. Now after some time had passed they are pitted against one another in a divorce firesale of property. When the two wind up staying at the remote lakefront property for a weekend all the old hurts come to the surface. This one is good reading. No back and doeth twists and turns. You may be asking will they or won't they but you won't be in suspense for long. Recommend this read!

BookAddict says

Caleb and Audrey work together at a real estate company and compliment each other well. He's more of a facts and figures guy, and her strength is in accentuating the emotional appeal of a property – together they make a great team. As they work together, they find themselves going from being colleagues to friends. After one steamy encounter at the company's Christmas party, it looks like they may become a lot more than friends, until Caleb finds out Audrey has stolen his dream job with another company out from under him.

Imagine his surprise when Caleb meets with a divorcing client who is selling two properties and finds that the wife has hired Audrey to represent her in selling the same two properties. And when they both show up for a weekend of showing potential buyers the lake house property, things get really interesting.

The advance copy I read of this book is my first by this author and all I can say is, Dude, you should really consider quitting your day job and writing full time! If this book is representative of his work, he's a fantastic author! The characters are so three dimensional they come alive on the pages, the descriptions are so vivid I picture them clearly in my mind's eye and the chemistry is so hot I burned my fingers turning pages! Yes, the book overflows eros (as one would expect with this type of book) but the scenes are emotional, moving and beautiful rather than cheap, degrading or trashy. This male POV from a male author is very obviously written with the female reader's satisfaction in mind and certainly fulfills that objective! I wholeheartedly recommend this book and will absolutely be getting my hands on more of this author's work!

Review Rating: 4.0 out of 5 stars.

A well-written and sexy little read! Hot, indeed!

I received an Advance Reader Copy for The Hot List written by Luke Steel and voluntarily reviewed this book. A well-to-do couple is going through a very nasty divorce, and Caleb was hired by the husband as his realtor. Unfortunately, his newly named nemesis, Audrey was just hired by the wife. Caleb and Audrey are then informed that they will be competing with each other to sell the couple's jointly owned properties, and the agent who delivers first gets the commission. When both Caleb and Audrey end up staying at the luxurious lake house property, their past comes screeching back into their present, mostly due to hurt feelings and miscommunication, not because they were not attracted to each other when they worked for the same firm. Forced to coordinate showings, however, they combined their strengths to overcome their collective weaknesses, and they were able to clear up all misunderstandings to a perfect HEA. This was a well-written and sexy little read, and I look forward to more of this author's stories!

Mel says

A quick read with a bit of hot, steamy conflict between Audrey and Caleb.

M Hurford says

This is a easy breezy story of 2 competing real estate agents who once worked for the same agency and now find themselves involved in selling properties as part of a messy divorce. The estranged wife chooses Audrey and the estranged husband chooses Caleb. They are charged with selling a penthouse and a lake house ASAP.

The story focuses on one weekend at the lake house and both being there to show the house. As usual events don't go as planned; and watching how they maneuver around and through their feelings, and selling techniques is fun. And, the soft gushy side of each helps them come out winners in the real estate game and with each other.

I'm a huge fan of the author, Luke Steel. He continues to find that storytelling sweet spot that keeps his fans craving for more of his stories.

This is an ARC review and I give this story 5 stars.

Tessa says

The Hot List is another hot story by Luke Steel. The chemistry between this couple almost made my Kindle combust.

Caleb and Audrey are competing realtors working with a divorcing couple in selling their homes. The person who successfully get a contract on their vacation home will become the exclusive realtor in selling the remaining property.

These two have a history. They used to work in the same office and swapped a little more than a kiss under the mistletoe at the company Christmas party. Audrey also landed the job at another firm that Caleb had his eye on.

These two will share a roof for a weekend all while trying to show clients the getaway home that has so many amenities.

Grab this sexy story that's another hot story by Luke Steel.

Viper Spaulding says

This was a wonderful second-chance romance story. Caleb and Audrey are real estate agents who once worked together and were friends. Just as they were about to take things beyond the friendship stage, career ambitions wrenched them apart.

Now they've both been hired to compete against each other to sell two very expensive properties, and that's when the fun begins. The emotional depth is there from the start, and their chemistry is undeniable. When their emotions finally overrule their better judgment, the resulting fight-to-sex scene is so hot you're going to need a potholder for your Kindle!

It takes a very talented author to give us a sweet romance laced with super sexy love scenes and make us care deeply for the characters from the start. Hot List was a very satisfying book to read. I voluntarily reviewed an ARC of this book.
