Review by K.K.: "Pokemon fans would love this. OK, I am quite the Trainer Gold fan. Something about his personality drives me to read this book over and over."

Sofie says

Johto was the first region I ever visited. When I was eight years old, my parents gifted me with Pokemon HeartGold after countless days of begging. I fell in love with the characters, graphics, and pokemon. Although I've never finished the dex on the game it has been amazing to replay.

Being able to follow Gold, Silver, and Crystal on their own journeys with their own pokemon filled me with ecstasy. I absolutely adored this box set!! I fully believe it's the best purchase I've ever made. I don't exactly like manga or anime except for pokemon (technically it's just a video game cuz it WAS a game first but... I don't want to debate it). When I bought this set with the Red and Blue boxes, I brought it everywhere. I opened it immediately at the hotel and read all throughout the trip. In line for rides, at restaurants, you name it - i was reading it.

I read this all the time! I love how they meet Red and Blue, how the series starts out, and just everything!!! I love this series...

[and how they connected with Red, Blue, Green, and Yellow (even though that was really only Silver) (hide spoiler)]

Allison Turbitt says

Good series. Loved Gold the goof and Silver the punk. Crystal was alright but felt shoved in halfway through which makes sense since that's how the games female option was added in. I dug how the trainers all had different skills involving Pokémon too. Looking forward to reading the Ruby and Sapphire volumes.
