Wind River Lawman Lindsay McKenna

The new novel from the bestselling author of Lone Rider.

Sometimes the war comes to you . . .

After serving as a Navy medic, Dawson Callahan is back in the States and ready to start over. Leaving his native Texas, he heads for the wide open spaces of Wyoming, where he finds work as a wrangler. True, he'll mainly be wrangling chickens—and wrangling Sarah Carter's granny, who's still spry, but in need of a little caregiving. But ranch work is ranch work, and it's hard to turn down a job offer from the beautiful Sheriff Carter—especially when she deputizes him as one of her lawmen.

Sarah loves her grandmother, but with her law enforcement career keeping her busy, they could both use some help from a strong, steady man. And policing Lincoln County has only gotten tougher since a merciless drug lord arrived in the area. When Sarah takes a bullet on the job, it's Dawson who comes to her rescue—and though they both thought they left war behind in Afghanistan, they'll do whatever it takes to protect what's theirs, even if it means facing down traumas they've buried for years. Because love isn't for the faint of heart . . .

Shirley Linn says

Wind River Lawman is a contemporary story about two people helping each other to heal emotionally. Sarah is the Sheriff in town and she hires Dawson to help her grandmother Gertie. As situations arise Sarah and Dawson end up spending a lot of time together. While they grow close, danger isn't far behind.

Yvonne says

I found this one to be the best of the stories in this series.

A touching story about two individuals, both ex-military characters, that continue to honor what they stand for.

Sarah Carter is the Sheriff in Wyoming , who needs someone to help her grandmother in her ranch. Dawson leaves Texas to work the ranch and in doing so, ends up assisting Sarah in fighting the drug lord invading their territory.

Much faster paced than previous stories with an engaging plot and complex characters you will come to love. I was entrusted this copy by Netgalley. The opinions expressed are solely my own.

Carmella Siciliano says

I received this e-book via NetGalley and the review I am leaving is my honest opinion.

Sarah is the Sheriff in Wind River. She is looking for someone to help her grandmother Gertie with life around her Chicken/egg business. The duties range from taking Gertie for doctor appointments to helping out with business issues. She also wanted someone with a medical background as she worries about Gertie's health.

Sarah hires Dawson, a Texan who always wanted to live in Wyoming. She'd had him checked into and was impressed so when the interview went well he was hired. One thing, of many, that they have in common is their military background and serving overseas. Then there is the attraction that blossoms almost immediately. Dawson settles in nicely.

Sarah is injured in the line of duty, a very bad gunshot wound to the leg. She will be out of commission for about 6 weeks but she is now in danger as one of the sons of the man she killed in self defense is after her. Her parents and both grandmothers want her to hide with the while she recovers but she would never put them at risk. She knows of a cabin that the Forest Service has and gets permission to use it. Dawson will go with her since he is the best chance for keeping her safe as well as his medical knowledge.

Will the danger find Sarah and Dawson? Will her family be safe?

I have to say that I have read most of this series and I felt this was definitely one of my favorites. I always liked the character of Sarah, a good friend to many and an excellent law officer. She has been a great character throughout the series and I was happy to read her story!

Sarah had a tragic event happen when she was 9, which of course evolved into PTSD and guilt. When it was finally revealed, it just broke my heart! Dawson of course has some PTSD from being overseas.

One thing that has always amazed me about this author is the amount of research she does for her books. Everything is explained so well without you feeling like you are being taught a school lesson.

This book has a great cast of characters, especially Sarah's grandmother Gertie who refuses to be treated like an old woman and definitely speaks her mind! I loved seeing the trust and feelings develop between these two, as well as respect. I would definitely recommend this book!

Mary says

This is an action packed, intense and suspenseful story. Dawson is strong, smart, caring and charming. Sarah is tough, brave and sweet. Their relationship starts off slowly but picks up in intensity as the story unfolds. They build a bond based on their pasts, which are very similar. The secondary characters add drama and entertainment to the storyline. This book didn't capture my attention as much as the others in the series, but it's a worthy addition.

I received a complimentary copy of this book from Netgalley. This is my honest and voluntary opinion of it.

Wind River Lawman (Kindle Edition) by Lindsay McKenna Book 6 in the Wind River Series and again Lindsay does not disappoint. Thanks to #NetGalley for letting me preview this book. It is always great to visit the Bar C Ranch and all the great vets ... Dawson Callahan is a returning vet who was a Navy medic and Sarah Carter is a vet and the sheriff. She hires Dawson to be a "wrangler" for her grandmother Gertie... There is nonstop action and fun from the beginning .. They both have PTSD and share a tragic loss in their pasts. This is a great love story that has laughs, tears, danger and of course a very HEA. I can't wait for the next book in the series HOME TO WIND RIVER.

Alys Baldwin says

I truly enjoyed this book. It was the first book I read in this series. I didn't know it was book 6. I now need to get the first 5. What a wonderful story. Lots of action, laugh, suspense. Sarah & Dawson are the perfect couple. Both dealing with a sad past to come together for a wonderful future.

I received an ARC from Kensington Publishing Corp & NetGalley.

Donna says

Dawson Callahan is a wrangler in search of a job in Wyoming. He learns of a job available in the Wind River area and immediately goes there to be interviewed by Sarah Carter, the sheriff of the county. Sarah is impressed by Dawson and his background as a Navy medic. Being a person with a military background, Sarah appreciates Dawson and hires him as a wrangler on her grandmother's ranch. Dawson is perfect for the position and becomes the protector of Sarah and her grandmother. A terrible work-related problem happens to Sarah and she is forced to flee for her life with Dawson in tow. I loved this new addition to the Wind River series. It was an exciting thriller that had a touch of romance and mystery. I recommend this series to those who love to read about ex-military characters and romance.

Wind River Lawman by Lindsay McKenna will be available August 28, 2018 from Zebra, an imprint of Kensington Books. An egalley of this book was made available in exchange for a honest review.

Maranda says

McKenna brings together two ex-military characters who find healing in each other. Sarah Carter is a Wyoming Sheriff looking for a wrangler and assistant for her Grandma Gertie. Dawson Callahan is a native Texan with a dream to explore Wyoming. Modern western story of overcoming drug infiltration and conquering danger. Nicely written with strong plot and unique gutsy Gertie wo lend a feisty flavor. "A copy of this book was provided by Kensington Books via Netgalley with no requirements for a review. Comments here are my honest opinion." HEROES HERALDED!

Jo says

This is a new series for me. Was not sure I would enjoy since it was a "romance novel". However, I did very much enjoy--there was a real story mixed in with the romance. And after some research on this series, there are continuing characters so I will be looking for others in the series. I really liked the fact that all key characters are veterans with some issues following being in war. This, to me, added a lot to the book.

Jayela Christides says

Book review best author ever!

Love. This author's writing. I am going to re-read while series again for third time. Book was exciting .each one is better and better. I wait impatiently for the next one. Had release date of this one on my calender.?

Bette Hansen says

Excellent read. It was nice to read a story with a strong female character. Sarah Carter is the sheriff of Lincoln County. Usually it's a pretty easy job but a sudden influx of drugs into the county have really amped things up. To add to her worries she has a spunky grandmother who needs looking after and help on her chicken farm. She needs to find someone that can help with both. That's where Dawson Callahan comes in. Dawson is a former Navy medic and looking for a job after coming to Wyoming. He's always wanted to live there and with this job coming up things are working out. Getting to see and spend time with Sarah on a regular basis is just a bonus.

This book is very well written with strong characters and a nice pace. Definitely one I would recommend.

Jo (Mixed Book Bag) says

While we are back in Wind River we are in a different location. I met the sheriff, Sarah Carter, in previous books but Dawson Callahan is a new characters. Both are really great characters. Dawson has the calm that Sarah needs and Sarah is the strong woman Dawson needs. This has it all. There is danger that through the two together, tension as Sarah is injured, and a budding and slow building romance. Great addition to the series.

I received a free copy of the book in return for an honest review.

Linda says

Moving from Texas to Wyoming, Dawson Callahan fulfilled a wish he had long had. Answering an ad for a job, he is hired to help at a chicken ranch as well as help Gertie Carter, the elderly owner. As an ex-Navy medic, Dawson was more than qualified. Then he meets Gertie's granddaughter Sarah Carter, who is also the county's sheriff. Gertie plays matchmaker but Dawson was smitten the first time he saw Sarah while she is a little hesitant. When she is shot and Dawson helps bring in the bad guys, Sarah knows he is a keeper.

Thanks Goodreads for an ARC of this book. I thoroughly enjoyed reading it. A cute love story between two people who got a second chance at love.

Paula says

Wind River Lawman has the same amazing character development, tight plot structure, and slow simmering romance but it also has a much more suspenseful story-line. This time Lindsay McKenna has moved the main focus off of the Bar C Ranch and on the surrounding county with Sherriff Carter at the very center.

I loved this story along with the direction that the series has taken. Also, this would read well as a stand-alone for anyone who is new to the Wind River Series. The Bar C and couples there still make an appearance. Shay's father is still wreaking havoc, and veterans make up most of the characters but any background that is needed is minor and it is given within the story.

My favorite of the series. It is full of heart, love, and family, who are all brave, tough and as Gertie says possess common sense. Loved it.

An ARC of the book was given to me by the publisher through Net Galley which I voluntarily chose to read and reviewed. All thoughts and opinions are my own.

Jane says

WOW!! This was a great story with intrigue, excitement, romance and a beautiful HEA! I fell in love with Sarah and Dawson and their relationship, although they were both broken people, they were still able to complete each other (corney but true). LOL!! Highly recommended!!
