Feasting on the Word: Preaching the Revised Common Lectionary, Year B, Vol. 2 David L. Bartlett (Editor) , Barbara Brown Taylor (Editor)

With this new lectionary commentary series, Westminster John Knox offers the most extensive resource for preaching on the market today. When complete, the twelve volumes of the series will cover all the Sundays in the three-year lectionary cycle, along with movable occasions, such as Christmas Day, Epiphany, Holy Week, and All Saints' Day.

For each lectionary text, preachers will find four brief essays--one each on the theological, pastoral, exegetical, and homiletical challenges of the text. This gives preachers sixteen different approaches to the proclamation of the Word on any given occasion.

The editors and contributors to this series are world-class scholars, pastors, and writers representing a variety of denominations and traditions. And while the twelve volumes of the series will follow the pattern of the Revised Common Lectionary, each volume will contain an index of biblical passages so that nonlectionary preachers, as well as teachers and students, may make use of its contents.

Really loving this resource. I think this will continue to be a helpful tool for many years as a pastor/preacher.

It's great to have a new preaching resource!

Rosemary says

Of course, one doesn't "finish" this book; it will be a reference for this season in Year B every 3 years! (Year B is part of the Revised Common Lectionary, a table of readings used by many mainline Protestant denominations and some Catholics, setting out readings for each Sunday of the year, one each from the Old Testament, Psalms, New Testament (letters or Acts) and Gospel.) Year A is mostly Matthew, B is mostly Mark, and C is mostly Luke. The Gospel of John appears throughout the other 3. This book is a commentary for preachers and others who want to delve more deeply into the Word. I recommend it.
