I'm a Bulldozer Dennis R. Shealy

Truck-loving preschoolers will love this charming, busy bulldozer hero!

“Push” McCallahan is a hardworking bulldozer who’s on the construction site before the other big work machines have had their first cup of morning diesel. After he’s finished moving dirt and rock, it’s off to build a road, help fight fires, and pull up some tree stumps at the farm! It’s all in a day’s work for this tough-but-lovable earthmover, brought to life by popular Little Golden Book illustrator Bob Staake.

I bought this book for my six-year-old son for two very good reasons:

1. We have the misfortune of living at the top of the street where a one-year road construction project has been going on for over three years; and
2. Bob Staake's illustrations.

For over half of my little boy's life, we been driving past road construction vehicles, sometimes standard yellow, sometimes shockingly pink -- most of them just parked along the side of the road -- just to get from our stretch of road to another. He has learned the names of all of them, especially the bulldozer. Dennis Shealy did include some uses of the bulldozer that didn't include construction, so that made the book especially interesting.

A few months after the construction began, my son discovered books illustrated or written and illustrated by Bob Staake. Staake quickly became my son's favorite illustrator. After almost three years, my son is a connoisseur of Staake's work and would know it anywhere. And he always says it's "beautiful". And my son is right.

My Review: This was a perfect book for Munchkin, he loves bulldozers. This book highlights all the things that bulldozers can do other than pushing dirt around. It also has a nice little lesson about hard work.

I don't think I've ever met a bulldozer that works as hard as "Push" McCallahan! This bulldozer pushes, pulls, gets dirty and is always busy helping out!
