"You and I both know that any girl would kill to be in your position, with me, right now." He smirks, knowing that what he's said is completely and utterly true.

People like Lea Wilson and River Parker do not mix, that is why there is a literal separation between popular people like River, and outsiders like Lea. But, what if the two people who are least expected to spend time with each other are doing exactly that, spending time with each other. And, not only at school, but at home as well.

After Lea's house falls apart due to a house mite attack, the Wilson's are invited to stay at an old family friend's mansion of a house. What makes the situation even more enchanting is that River is the son of the Wilson's old family friend.

I'll give you time to digest that information.

Yes, you're right. The sarcastic nerd and the egotistic sex-god live under the same roof and are flooded with a series of events that make the two do something completely unexpected. They grow closer, and closer, and closer, until...well, you'll have to find that out for yourself.

Follow Lea through her adventure of falling in love, getting her heart broken, and learning a lesson that explains there is more to life than she's ever imagined.

The book that I chose is called “Mr. Popular and I” written by Indie, and was published in the website Wattpad. This book is found in one of the most recommended, and it called my attention due to the fact that contains drama and romance – which are my favorites literary genres. Actually, I didn’t know this author and I didn’t read none of her books before. In my opinion this author did an excellent job with this book, and this effort is reflected because the number of people who read this book was about 97.7 M. At the beginning I didn’t have many expectations about this book, because most of the time I read a book in Wattpad and I thought that this book was going to be bored. However, as I was progressing in the reading I was liking it a little more.

Almost all romance stories talk of impossible loves; instead the story of this book, start narrating about a young girl who doesn’t hang out with boys and who doesn’t think of having boyfriend. She considered herself invisible to all men, so she decided to concentrate more in school stuff instead of having a relationship.

Also, tells the story about a boy which all the young girls adored him. He was the most popular at school, and all the girls were jealous of Georgia (his girlfriend) because she was in a relationship with River. In the most unexpected moment all change, when a beautiful girl, who called herself invisible, changed the path of River’s heart. Here we can see that the typical romance story change, when the most popular boy falls in love with someone who told herself being invisible for everyone, especially one in particular.

Deeping more the book, I’m going to tell you about the main characters. Open up with River Parker, whom every girl has a crush on him. What I disliked of him was his temperament at the beginning of the book, I mean of how he treated people. However, analyzing what happened to him in the book I can understand the fact of why he was rude to all the people. Another of the main characters is Lea Wilson, who thought being invisible for men. About Lea’s personality, I disliked that every time that River talked to her she blushed. Nevertheless, I understand why Lea blushed because I think that’s a behavior that have most of the women towards men. On the other hand, what I liked of her was Lea’s noble heart, because despite of all the conflicts River had she stayed with him no matter what were his problems.

The plot of the book was unpredictable, because I thought that is was going to narrate only a story of love between the main characters and it wasn’t like that. Instead, River was adopted and he had a sister called Emily. Nick (whom River considered his brother) was Emily’s boyfriend; and one day at a party, Nick saw Emily kissing Ky (River’s best friend) and Nick piss off so he took Emily to his car. An hour later, Nick and Emily were injured due to the fact that Nick crashed the car because he was drunk and with drug in his human system. Nick fractured some ribs, meanwhile Emily stayed in coma; and a year later, Emily woke up but with memory loss. River was happy with Emily’s recovery, but at the same time he was sad of knowing that Emily was never going to remember him. Weeks later, Emily had a rare attack and the doctors didn’t know how to handle it, so she died. Nick was very disappointed of himself for what he did, so he went to River’s house with a gun to kill himself. In that moment Lea went to the wood house (another house of the Parkers), and she saw Nick. Lea didn’t know what to do to stop Nick of taking his life away, so Lea, acting impulsive, jumped to take away Nick’s gun. The gun shot causing a wound on Nick’s thigh, but Lea thought that was better a Nick with a bullet on his thigh rather than a Nick with a bullet on his head.

With the narration of the previous event, it will be understood why the plot was unpredictable. Within its main theme, I think that are friendship, betrayal, love, lies, violence, hope, and dreams.

What I was disappointed about the book was that cheating occupied an importance place, such as it is describe in the relationship between the characters; for example, River cheated Georgia with Flo (Georgia's best friend), but Georgia didn't break up with him because she was carrying River's baby, but then she had a miscarriage. Georgia made River promise to never leave her, and River promised what she wanted due to the fact that Georgia was shattered because of him. Later, River met Lea and he cheated Georgia again. In the story he said that he did it, because the love between Georgia and him was over. Instead in my opinion, that is not an excuse for justify what he did.

In conclusion, I recommend this book for teenagers over fourteen years old despite of the anti-values that are presented (like to commit adultery in a relationship). I specify to read this book only if they are over fourteen years old, because maybe a girl or a boy of twelve years old can take some negatives conducts that are described in the book (for example, cheating someone in a relationship). Instead, people over fourteen years old have their own judgement, and they can think of how badly is to cheat in someone when that person is conscious that is with somebody else.

Frankly...Wattpad has better books on the same concept than Mr. Popular and I.
This book may have given a reason for River to turn into a jerk but I felt like that reason wasn't good enough.
So back to the story line...meet Lea Wilson, the nerd of the town whose house was just ruined due to termites.

Also meet River Parker,the loaded jerk and popular guy in the town.

Lea is forced to stay at Rivers house as their fathers are childhood friends.
The story of the cliché of two haters turned to lovers and to rate about its cuteness is left to you guys.
I always disliked dual p.o.v.s and this book didnt do anything to change my opinion about it.

I read in one sitting on wattpad today and it was one of the most cliché wattpad reads, well what can I expect, it's bloody wattpad lmao (cliché central). Anyway, this is great for when you're in a reading slump as it's a light fluffy cute read however very cringe worthy and I dislike lea at times.

Overall I thought the book was ok and I may read it again if I'm in a slump as it's a very easy read, I highly recommend it if you like cliché however if you dislike cliché I highly doubt you would like it.

DNF @ 55%

I know this is a Wattpad story and my expectations shouldn't be too high, but this story was just so cliché that I felt like I had read it a billion times. Lea got kind of annoying too, and how lovesick she was got very frustrating for me to read, and I just think that finishing this wouldn't be worth my time.

Mihlean says

Okay obviously, I'm not actually done reading this since it's not finished yet, but I'm not sure how to list it on GR otherwise, since it's not a dnf either.

So far, the rating I'm giving it, is 3 stars.

Why?

It's so cliché, but I still really enjoy reading it.

I know, it sounds so stupid, but it's simply the truth.

Je me suis arrêté au tiers du roman car c'est juste pas possible. Je trouve que les dialogues ne sont pas fluides et les personnages creux. J'ai l'impression de lire une suite de clichés sans liens entre eux...

This is one of the most cliché novels on Wattpad. Still, it feels like all of its charm lies exactly there! It's just your typical love story with everyday obstacles, but it's so adorable, easy and fun to read. It's not something that I would normally read, but it's something that I would definitely enjoy on a sad day -- to make me smile, of course.

The whole situation from the very beginning is hilarious and had me giggling throughout the next several chapters. I very much like the fact that the author based it on a Korean drama but gave it her original touch as well!

Can't really do much if the author stops updating and the story is pretty much like every other Wattpad book

Je tiens à remercier les éditions Hachette Romans et le site Netgalley pour ce partenariat.

Quand j'ai vu ce livre à la fnac et qu'il était disponible en demande sur netgalley j'ai sauté sur l'occasion.

On y retrouve Léa qui est obligée quitter sa maison à cause des termites. Elle va être hébergée avec sa famille chez River. C'est le gars le plus populaire du lycée. Sauf qu'ils ne s'entendent pas.

Un livre rempli d'humour lu d'une traite. J'ai accroché de suite à l'histoire un peu courte à mon avis. J'espère qu'il y aura une suite.

I' reading this with a wider smile. And yeah, I really love this couple. They are perfect too each other. An explanation that make me eager to know what next. His skills of writing did not make me bored. Congarates

I know this book isn't really finished yet, but I've caught up on all the chapters that were published right now and it started great. I loved the whole story but through the end, it became a little too intense for me. I loved character development though. River truly changed throughout this book and I loved Lea's personality. She was a little too nice for my taste, but I would rather have the main character to be kind than bitchy. I would've liked more High School scenes but it was a nice read so far and I've got to say I've really enjoyed it.

Sweet, sweet young love.

This was a lovely read. Very fast and fun. Good characters. Interesting plot.

I waited a long time for it to be finished and I promised myself that I will only read it when it was done. So there you go, now it is done.

I had fun reading this. Thank you to the author for not giving up on the story and I hope she writes some more.

I adored this! it is sooo adorable and I will be patiently (not really) waiting for the day the author gets a chance to finish it!

Mon avis en Français

My ENglish review

Voilà un roman que je ne connaissais pas du tout mais en le voyant passer et avec un tel résumé, j'étais assez intriguée de voir ce que l'histoire allait donner.

Lea et sa famille n'ont vraiment pas eu de chance... Leur maison s'est écroulée à cause des termites. Mais heureusement pour eux un ancien ami de son père leur propose de les héberger. Mais voilà, elle ne s'attendait pas à découvrir que leur fils n'est autre que le beau gosse du lycée. Les étincelles apparaissent dès leur rencontre et ils semblent se détester dès le début et pourtant...

Le style de l'auteur est très agréable et le roman se lit vraiment très rapidement. C'est d'ailleurs assez facile de rentrer dans l'histoire et je suis restée curieuse de voir comment les événements allaient se dérouler tout au long des chapitres. Pourtant quelque chose m'a aussi gênée, je dois bien l'avouer. Les choses sont un peu trop faciles ou un peu trop grosses et du coup elles deviennent moins plausibles (en tout cas pour moi). La romance va trop vite, l'ex infernal est finalement très gentille. Je ne sais pas, ça semblait étrange et étonnant.

Dans tous les cas, et même si je m'attendais à plus, c'était une découverte intéressante.
