My Secret Service Valentine Susan Elizabeth Phillips

Short Story on Susan Elizabeth Phillips' Website

This is the only short story I've ever written. It was originally published in Waldenbooks magazine in conjunction with the release of FIRST LADY. Fans of that book will remember Toni DeLucca and Jason Williams, the agents tracking First Lady Cornelia Case. I hope you enjoy this chance to get reacquainted.

Read only after reading

Cute, short read. And I mean SHORT. It's on SEP's website.

Tara Kable says

Very cute! Made me smile!

Sue says

Short story, a little add-on using the characters from First Lady. When I say short I mean it. But quite cute. Link on the story page on goodreads goes nowhere. Try this one instead.

Sweet and very very short story that is posted on SEP's website:

5+ stars as always SEP. Susan could write the phone book and I'd read it and love it.

Karin says

Really just half a chapter of a story, if that. Very sweet.

Limau Nipis says

The only short story written by Susan Elizabeth Phillips, I do think it is a tad too short. I am usually able to identify SEP's main characters because she writes them with such flairs. This one just fall flat, because I do not know the character's personalities much.

Peni says

A cute tidbit about the FBI agents from First Lady.

My Secret Service Valentine is a super short-story written by Susan Elizabeth Phillips (#4.5 in her Wynette, Texas series). It is themed for the Valentine's Day holiday and it left a sweet smile on my face.

Ms. Phillips offers My Secret Service Valentine for free reading on her website HERE. Enjoy!

Reni says

Wow...when she said short story she really meant 'short'. Enjoyed it.
