A window shattered by a single bullet. Cocaine-laced candy. A child ODs. It's just another Christmas in LA, until Detective Tom Stone takes action. Cocaine stuffed into candy bars are appearing throughout Los Angeles. A child's overdose at Christmas pulls Detective Tom Stone and his partner Jake Sharp into the seedy, underground world of drug smuggling. The duo races to stop whoever's responsible before another innocent life is lost. They piece together clues and close in on the criminals until Stone finds himself trapped, facing certain death at the very hands of the men he was hunting.
