A Time to Rejoice Anna Jacobs

The heartwarming third instalment of the Rivenshaw series from bestselling saga writer Anna Jacobs.

After a stray bomb scored a direct hit on his childhood home in Hertfordshire, the only thing that has kept Francis Brady going while he works day and night salvaging what he can from the rubble is the thought that soon he'll be joining war-time friends Mayne, Daniel and Victor as electrician in their new dream building firm in Lancashire.

But things are not going to plan: Mayne isn't answering any of his letters; Francis' wife is having a change of heart about moving up north - and her parents seem set on destroying his reputation...

A lot of marriages are breaking up in these times of change, and Francis is loathe for his to be one of them... But how can he turn down the opportunity of a new life and career in Rivenshaw?

Meanwhile in Rivenshaw itself, newly married Mayne and Judith's plans to convert Esherwood house into flats have come to an abrupt halt. While clearing out the house in readiness for the rebuild, they've discovered that someone has been stealing valuables and hiding them in the old Nissen hut. But who hid them there - and are they planning on returning for them? And are they also responsible for something else found in the shelter: a body, buried in a shallow grave...

With so much going against them, can these four friends ever turn their dreams into reality?

I really enjoyed this book. I don't think it would have made much sense without reading the others and I loved the fact that it followed on from previous story lines. It was a nice gentle read with a few unexpected twists and turns. I look forward to the next one

Mary Hayes says

Gripped right through a brilliant book and I hope that there will be another in the Rivenshaw Series

Jane says

A good read that leaves the story open for book 4

Tracey says

A lovely continuation to the Rivenshaw saga. I love all the main characters, they are all so 'real'. Each of the partners of the Esher building company have their own family problems to overcome before they can get on with their lives. I am glad there is another book in this series, as there are things that need to be sorted out and I would like a bit of romance to come Daniel's way.

Joy says

Another great read in the Rivenshaw series. Book 4 coming January 2017

Ann says

An enjoyable read but very similar plot to the previous two in the series. I would have liked something different. Also I am amazed that the four men in the book were demobbed so quickly. Its set in the summer of 1945 and the demobilisation only started in the June. My Dad was in the building industry and wasn't demobbed until 1946. I think realistically she should have set it later. Perhaps she was showing that the upper classes got better treatment in this as in everything else! Just being a bit picky.

Liz Baker says

A good read. Will there be a 4th

Trudie says

I found it a bit slow to get into at first but once the story started gathering pace it was great!

New beginnings

What can I say this third book in the series is as fabulous as the other 2 following the stories of these fab people at Esher manor . Francis and Diana have a lot to go through which has happened in this book poor girl having a father like hers but at least her and Francis are married and now to read book 4 for the conclusion of this fantastic series by Anna another 5 STARS .
