THE WESTERN MEGAPACK is the second Megapack that I've read, the first being The Fourth Science Fiction Megapack, and I'll be reading more of them as they are very enjoyable and probably the best bargain in collections of short stories in various genres.

As you might expect, the stories included here vary in both length and quality, although the majority of the ones included here were very good, especially of interest to fans of the old western pulp magazines who like the older style of western writers from the past.

Favorite stories from this collection for me were "INVITATION BY BULLET" written by Ernest Haycox, and "THE TRAIL TRAP" by T.W. Ford.

I recommend joining the Goodreads "Wildside Press" group to keep up on other megapacks available and to participate in the monthly group reads.
