Watch Me Fall Cherrie Lynn

Starla Kimbrell might be on the worst date of her life, but she didn't expect to find herself walking home alone on a dark dirt road after her latest mistake leaves her in a cloud of dust. Luckily, salvation comes in the form of Jared Stanton—single dad of two, sexy cowboy, blue eyes like whoa. If she isn't careful, she might just let him become the latest in her string of amorous disasters.

Jared doesn't consider himself on the market. His first love left his heart in pieces that even a marriage to someone else couldn't salvage, and now that he's divorced and focusing on his twin daughters, he isn't looking to put another woman in the shadow of the one who crushed him. Still, the stranded tattoo artist intrigues him, while her unstable ex-boyfriend makes him worry for her safety. Is the guy just a mouthy jerk, or is Starla in real danger?

Starla quickly learns that not everyone in her life is thrilled with her new interest in Jared. Their cautious courtship is rocked when tragedy strikes and the world as she and her coworkers know it is shattered. Faced with a situation she can't handle, she turns to the only man who has ever made her feel truly safe, even as she learns that Jared's protective instincts might be destructive enough in their own way to rip them apart for good.

Each story in the Ross Siblings Series is standalone story that can be enjoyed in any order.

Well, it looks like I'm in the minority again. Except this time I'm not one of the only ones that disliked the book but actually liked it. It feels good!

I understand the bad reviews and why most felt the way they did. Was Starla annoying? Well, yes, yes she was. But she didn't bother me a great deal. I really liked Jared and I didn't think I would. I didn't feel like these two settled for each other at all. In my opinion, they went so long thinking they were still in love with Macy and Brian and believing that those feelings were the reasons for all their hang ups with other relationships. I thought it was clear how Jared and Starla were starting to feel about each other. They just had to work it out in their heads first. Sometimes we don't end up with who we believe our soulmates are. Doesn't mean you have to spend the rest of your life miserable and alone. I liked that these characters were honest with each other and went from there. I get why some readers would think the opposite, that they settled. We all read things differently.

I loved revisiting with old characters. Especially, Ghost. I love him! He's definitely my favorite in this series! I loved the epilogue. It left me with a huge smile. I thought it was a a great ending to this series. If wasn't the end then it was the end for me.

Overall, I enjoyed it. I spent the whole day doing nothing but reading this book. It has been awhile since I've done that.

It's been awhile since fans have last hung out with the crew from Dermamania. Brian Ross, Ghost, Janelle, Starla, Candace, Macy and do readers remember Macy's old boyfriend? His name is Jared and he's the guy who got his heart crushed when she moved on without him with Ghost. This is Starla who is a tattoo artist at the shop and longtime friends with the gang (secretly in love with Brian) and Jared's love story!

Starla meets Jared on the side of the road as yet another bad choice of a boyfriends backfires on her. Jared pulls over to offer help and he's everything Starla ever wanted in a guy. He's chivalrous, sexy, a father of two twin girls (marriage fell a part because of his strong feelings for Macy Rodgers) and so an unlikely friendship blooms between these two!

"He radiated warmth and protection, and she soaked it up like an old, dry sponge. She'd been starved of it most of her life, hadn't she? Maybe it had been her own doing. Maybe she'd deserved it for some of the choices she'd made."

There isn't any instant love in this story as the two quickly form a friendship and learn to confide in one another. They expose all their flaws as well as how hung up they are on Brian and Macy. I loved the pacing and I didn't even mind the deranged ex Max.

"Maybe it was because she and Jared, from the very night they met, had begun from a place of brutal honesty—he saw her fuckups, he knew her ridiculous infatuation. She saw his guilt and his inability to let go of his past love. They were well acquainted with each other's truths."

Starla had more growing up to do and some better choices for herself. Both characters were great and made a wonderful couple.

I truly enjoyed this story but I wish that the author will actually write more about them, perhaps a novella? I felt that they ended up together then BAM the story was done with an epilogue. I want her to play stepmom, I want horseback rides, I want Christmases, I want to bask in their love and get through some ups and downs together pretty please Cherri Lynn!!!!

2 stars.

It PAINS ME to rate Watch Me Fall 2 stars. I love this series...HARD. Evan, Brian, Ghost, Ian...I adore all these hot and sexy men and their love stories. Jared was a such a sweet heart, I was able to overlook his constant lovesick hangups over loosing Macy's heart. He was sexy, charismatic and a great dad.

Starla destroyed this read for me from beginning to end. She was beyond selfish, childish and annoying - she frustrated the shit out of me. What turned me off the most was her unrequited love for Brian. It was constant and vexing. I mean, come on, the guy is married and she was his wife's friend. There was nothing likable or lovable about her. Starla's foolish actions and poor judgement hurt the most important people in her life. There was no getting over her character's attitude/obsession in order for me to enjoy the read.

I'm so broken-hearted this installment did not work for me.

2.0 maybe 2.5 stars

I didn't read any reviews before starting this book. I'm glad I didn't, but I do have to say I completely agree with all the less than flattering reviews of this book. Cherrie Lynn is an excellent author and her Ross series, up until the last two books, was one of my favorites.

With that said, the good about this book is you get to see characters you loved in previous books. The bad, too much to list. Besides not liking Starla, at all, the my biggest gripe is the profound love these two have for other people though the majority of the book. That formula just didn't work for me. It took up too much of the focus of the book to ever believe Starla and Jared actually fell for each other.

If you have been reading the series, by all means, continue with this one, but if you are looking for the magic between the lead characters that was a standard in this series be prepared to be disappointed.

I was so excited when I saw a new book in this series. However that quickly waned as I started it. Within a couple of pages I almost quit reading when there was a text message and the word "prolly". Really??? I can't stand when people shorten words, in fact I probably am the only person in the world who writes in full sentences while texting. Big hot button issue for me.

Things didn't get better for me as the story unfolded. I couldn't stand how Starla went on and on in her head about how in love she was with Brian, how she would never break up his happy home, but it was eating her alive. Then there was Jared with much the same thoughts about Maya. And we are supposed to believe that these two will end up a couple. Nope, don't even care to read it.

I finally decided to quit when everyone at the tattoo shop started to give Starla grief over her date and the mystery ride home she got. I get that Starla is a walking train wreck, but come on, she's a grown woman and can take care of herself despite making some bad decisions along the way.

In the end this one just isn't for me.

Warning: Harsh comments about this book.

This was the mantra in my head as I slogged through book:

Starla had to be one of the most annoying characters I've read in a long time. I stopped counting how many times I yelled "Shut Up" at her endless blubbing. Jared should have turned his truck around when he found her on the side of the road.

The one star is for Brian and Candace.

I am so conflicted with feelings about this story.

While I enjoyed it for the most part, I still had some issues with it that are lingering on the brain.

Jared Stanton & Starla Kimbrell are two characters that will gnaw at your emotions, yet have you falling in love with them all the same.

When Starla is literally kicked out of a car and stranded to walk home, Jared happens to find her on the side of the road and offers her a ride.

These two had issues GA-LORE, yet their honesty about their issues from the very beginning was appreciated. All their dirty laundry was put out to air, which rarely occurs in many of these romance stories we divulge.

Starla – hopelessly in love with her best friend Brian, who is happily married and a new father. Her unrequited love for Brian consumes her being.

Jared – hopelessly holding on to Macy... a girl he has known most of his life, was the love of his life but the feelings were never reciprocated. His obsession with Macy caused the end of his marriage to Shelly, his ex-wife and mother of their twin girls, Mia & Ashley.

This deluge of feelings for other people consumed me in the most frustrating way, yet I understood their brokenness over this.

Starla and Jared were literally night & day and at times I had to really open up the mind to fully understand their growing feelings for one another. Starla was hell bent on being destructive, choosing all the wrong paths in life because she felt underserving of live since she couldn't have the man she truly loved. Brian was hell bent on holding on to a past that was long gone.

There were times that I absolutely LOVED Starla (her sassiness, spitfire ways) and moments where I wanted to choke the chick. Jared I loved more than I wanted to choke because he accepted Starla's past transgressions and really just wanted to see if this could go somewhere.

(view spoiler)

All in all – the story line was good, the sex was hot, the ending was expected and all feelings for others eventually dissipates.

4.5 stars! I found out a few weeks ago that this book was releasing and when it did I was all over it! This is one of my favorite authors/series....Brian Ross being an absolute favorite of mine. When I read the synopsis, I remembered Starla but Jared didn't ring a bell at first. Then it hit me and I was so anxious to get started.

Jared made this book for me. He was absolutely amazing and I desperately wanted him over Macy. I'm glad Starla was able to find her "one" as well. I love all the characters from Dermamania and it was so nice getting to read more about them. I can't put my finger on it (other than fantastic writing) but you feel like you are right there with the group and experiencing everything right along with them.

I have to say that Jared and Starla as a couple surprised me, but opposites attract (look at Ghost and Macy!) They really made a great couple and I loved reading about Starla with Jared's girls, Ashley and Mia. Jared didn't come off too strong, giving Starla time to figure out what she wanted as well as deciding for himself. Watching that happen gave me all the feels and I loved every bit of it. Once they got together, they were explosive!! Then there is the element of suspense with Starla's crazy ex and Jared shows his protective side by taking matters into his own hands to make sure that Starla is safe. I loved that Jared and Ghost teamed up to get that done!

I wish the story were longer... I could read about these characters forever!

I have no clue how I missed the release of the fifth in the Ross Siblings Series a few months ago. But shame on me. In Watch Me Fall we get Starla's story with a pairing of character that we met briefly in Leave Me Breathless (Macy & Ghost), Jared (Macy's ex). Starla has been doing nothing but making mistake after mistake when it comes to selecting the men in her life. But the one man she really wants is one she can't have. Jared is no stranger to longing for someone, even when there is someone else in the picture.

When Jared stumbles across Starla on the side of the road, rescuing her turns into intrigue and morphs into so much more as they share their forbidden feelings and find something so much greater than what they thought they wanted.

I really, really enjoyed Starla's story. Although Jared was easy to love – Starla was my favorite part of the duo. She had so much strength that had been beaten out of her over the years and I just could not help but fall in absolute love with her.

I am assuming this is our final book of this series and if so, the only thing that it was missing was a few cameos from all of the prior in the series. So part of me is hoping that there might be one more in the works that will bring everyone together for one last hurrah.

Fans of this series will love Starla's story and for new readers – this can be read as a standalone, although I do recommend reading all of the books.

These are his thoughts when he saw the ow that he was in love in the whole book marry

"The guests stood, and the woman who'd once been the embodiment of all of Jared's dreams walked at her father's side to marry someone else. She was beautiful. Yeah, he'd be lying if he said he didn't feel a little tug in his chest, but it was by no means the shard of pain it would have been earlier this year" but he still felt something and this is the epilogue I felt like the h was second best I really hate books like this

Caution Spoilers ahead:

This book should be called "Watch Me Settle". I have loved the other books from this series. I'm so sorry to have to say it but this book was awful! Hero and Heroine need to grow up. They are hung up on other people for the entire book including the epilogue! Starla confesses her love to the object of her affection. Why? I have no idea. The person she loves will never, ever leave his wife. But he did throw her a bone and told her if his wife never came into the picture he would have dated Starla. WTF??? I can't even figure out what to say. Then Jared is a total jerk to the woman he loves (I don't mean Starla). He says maybe two words to her in this book. He won't even look at her sometimes. Then at the end he watches her marry someone else and it tugs on his heart. WTF???? Just a word of warning to Starla and Jared: you will for sure find yourself dumped like a bad habit if the person that your boyfriend/girlfriend loves ever becomes available. Please do yourself a favor and skip this book. I'm sorry because this author is a favorite of mine. I'm so sorry this review is harsh but I feel like my time was totally wasted:(

3.5 STARS

I really did like this storyline and I love anything Cherrie Lynn writes. I just didn't quite feel the depth of the connection between Starla and Jared the same way I felt it with every other couple in this series. I wish there'd been more to solidify their connection, to really convince me that they'd found their true love after everything they'd each been through. I knew it but I didn't really KNOW it the way I did with the others. But, still, it was an enjoyable read. Anything that brings me back to Dermamania and reunites me with Ghost and Brian is well worth the read.
