Rattlesnake Valley J.A. Johnstone

In the heart of West Texas an ocean of troubles has come ashore--and the Loner is adrift in a sea of hungry sharks.

Welcome Aboard. Now Die. . .

They came from the sea: a former ship captain named Owen Bird who inherited a Texas ranch from his brother. . . A former pirate named "Black Terrance" Malone, who has arrived in the once peaceful Rattlesnake Valley with a crew of sea dogs to do his dirty work. And dirty work it would be, as Black Terrance begins a campaign of thieving and threatening, even targeting Bird's beautiful young niece. Into this storm rides the Loner--Conrad Morgan, son of the legendary gunfighter Frank Morgan. The Loner sees what no one else does: a war born on the high seas and a third party is biding his time--waiting to strike a death blow on solid, bloody ground. . .

This is a tale of a range war, an old western plot, but with a slight twist.

The Kid is minding his own business when he gets waylaid by a crew straight out of the pirate handbook. A skull and crossbones block a path he crosses and gets him embroiled in a long standing feud.

In a Texas valley, on one side, a former English sea captain is in a war with the pirate he captured and had sent to prison for eighteen years. Now free, he's out for revenge on the man who put him away. Never mind wanting to marry the captain's niece as part of his payback.

Flannery Kneel says

Kid Morgan arrives in Rattlesnake Valley, just outside of Bristol, TX. The beautiful Diana Starbird offers to take The Kid back to her ranch to resupply after a brawl with a thug hired by a competing rancher, Black Terrance Malone. Malone and his men have been terrorizing the Starbird's Diamondback ranch, and running roughshod all over Bristol trying to take over the territory. All in revenge against her uncle, former naval officer, Owen Starbird for capturing Malone and having him imprisoned for piracy in the Caribbean. That night the ranch is ambushed and now The Kid has a settle to score! One failed ambush after another leads to a final shootout in the local saloon owned by the beautiful Sophia! The Starbirds have been kidnapped and The Kid, along with Diamondback's punchers, and a clan of Yaquis lead by family friend Gray Hawk, rescue the two and kill Malone's right hand men! But there is a twist! A man posing as a journalist has plans of his own! Will The Kid manage to thwart his evil plans to take over the town? Will The Kid and his allies be able to take Malone down and save Diamonback Ranch? With pirates, conspiracy, shootouts, and even sword fights, this epic story is filled with edge of your seat thrills!

Not horrible just not on par with the Frank Morgan books.

I listened to the Graphic Audio version of this (audio book) and the miles seemed like nothing on my road trip! Excellent way to hear these, just like a radio western (not read, acted out with sound effects) only longer. 5 hours of great listening.

Another rip-roarin' adventure of Conrad "Kid Morgan" Browning, alias the Loner. This time out, the Kid squares off with former pirate Black Terrance Malone, who seeks to take over the Diamondback ranch (run by his former high-seas nemesis, Captain Owen Starbird and his niece), and thus, the whole of Rattlesnake Valley. Unbeknownst to all, however, a third party has nefarious plans of his own for the valley. Great, action-packed storytelling in the best Western tradition. I look forward, as always, to the next installment!
