Singing in the Rain at the Picture House by the Sea: Part Two Holly Hepburn

Part Two in the brilliant new series from the bestselling author of the Star and Sixpence series. Perfect for all fans of Cathy Bramley.

Gina has returned to her grandparents in the picturesque Cornish town of Polwhipple, to help run the Italian family's ice-cream business while her grandfather recovers from an accident.

Dismayed to find her old haunt from childhood visits to Polwhipple, the little picture house by the sea, in a state of disrepair, Gina is determined to help. Long past its heyday now, the little art deco cinema needs all the love it can get. With the help of her old friend Ben, Gina goes to the town's committee to ask for funding to renovate the hearthstone of Polwhipple's community. And what better way to prove the little picture house's worth, than by throwing another fantastic themed screening, complete with an exotic new Ferrelli flavour...

But Ben's activities are closely watched by his old flame, the venomous Rose Arundell, who is determined to get her claws into him once more. Rose is used to getting what she wants – the trouble is, Gina is starting to wonder if she and Rose want the same thing...

Didn't want it to finish

Really enjoyed part two of Ginas story and didn't want it to finish so soon. Can't wait for part three. Can imagine the seaside town and makes you want to go to Cornwall. A lovely relaxing read which means you can enjoy

Nessa says

Love love it, part 2 to The Picture House by the Sea series has been an absolutely delightful read and highly enjoyable.

I truly felt like I was there in Polwhipple enjoying the scenery, the atmosphere, the yummy ice cream flavours, not to mention enjoying the show and seeing Polwhipple station come back to it's former glory.

There was more mouth watering ice cream flavours to try and they sure did sound yummy, the Good Morning gelato and the Afternoon Tea ice-cream. Just perfect.

Off to read part 3 now, as can't wait to see what develops and happens with Gina, Max, Ben and Rose.

Fun lighthearted quick read. The problem with the four parters is that I can't stop reading the lot!

5 stars

Another great instalment of a brilliant lighthearted series. The characters draw me in and really bring the book to life. Can't wait to read part 3.

The second book in the series. Thoroughly enjoyed the novella and now fully into it the story and love the characters.

I can't wait for the third one to be released (which I was a free preorder on my kindle) as I wasn't sure after reading the first book whether I was going to enjoy this series as much as I kept comparing it to the star and sixpence set.

I managed to download this one from the library which was even better as it saved me some pennies.

After the success of the showing of Brief Encounters, Gina has once again taken the picture house by storm. This time she is showing the classic musical Singing in the Rain. Once again, she is met with trials and tribulations. In the second instalment of the Picture House by the Sea series Gina's plans get bigger and bigger. She wants to renovate the picture house and return it to its former glory. But she still has the dastardly Rose to come up against along with a love triangle that is fast becoming a love square.

Singing in the Rain at the Picture House by the Sea is lovely. What is really great about this series is that Holly Hepburn has perfectly captured what it is like to live and breathe community spirit. I want to go to the movies in this picture house.
