Rachel (The Rest Is Still Unwritten) says

I loved it! I completely did!

This has got to be my fave witch series I've ever read. Personally, I think it's the best one out there.

After the way the last book finished I was really excited to read this one and I thought it was excellent. I enjoyed watching and seeing Morgan pick up the pieces of her world as she came to terms with what had happened and after she learned just who Cal was and what he's done to her.

I find Morgan to be a really relatable main character. I like that she isn't always strong, nor is she ever perfect. I think she's very real and it makes it easier to enjoy the book because I can connect with her better.

Although I will say that as times I'd love nothing more than to be able to give her a massive shake.

Sometimes I feel that she can be naive and that frustrates me. However I think that Morgan's really beginning to come into her own and discover just who she is, even though she's got a long way to go.

And Hunter....oh I love Hunter! He's my fave part of the whole series. After never liking Cal, it was so happy when he came into the series. He was a breath of fresh air and I LOVE that he and Morgan have fallen for one another. I like how they bicker and fight with one another and yet can't deny that they have a connection. I just know they're murin breathers- it's so obvious. While they don't completely understand the attraction they both feel and the way they're drawn to one another, I love how they have given into what they feel and are together. They seem so right for each other. Plus, Hunter's just plain hot! Just putting that out there. That blond hair, green eyes and sexy English accent.....sigh Totally yummy!

This book was so exciting towards the end. It was weird seeing Cal die, but at least he gave his life for Morgan and for once did the right thing. That smoke that came out of Selene at the end was weird, and I really want to know what it means. I look forward to reading the next book and the rest of the series! I can't wait to get more of Morgan and Hunter.....

This series is pretty great until book 9 where in my opinion it gets a bit dry. No spoilers here, you'll have to read them yourself. Enjoy! Great for preteen witches, or parents who want their children to discover magick.

Jasmine says

After nearly being burnt to death by the boy she thought loved her, Morgan finds herself unsure on who she can trust and uncertain of her own judgment and powers. When she senses dark magick in Widows Vale Morgan is Scared that it's Cal and Selene back to finish her off.

In these books Morgan grows in confidence and re-forges old friendships, as well as making new friends.

Her confusion over her feelings for Cal and Hunter are well written, and the continuation and deepening of the Wiccan world and Morgans own history is compelling and enchanting.

Just like the preceding stories, these two (in one volumn) were completely engrossing. I couldn't put the book down, so got through it pretty quickly and enjoyed every bit. Very much looking forward to the next installments...
